

SAT Inferences

Q1 Osaka is one of Japan's most exciting cities. It is famous for its street food, friendly people, and busy shopping areas. Many visitors say the food in Osaka is even better than in Tokyo. Every year, millions of tourists travel to Osaka to try dishes like takoyaki and ramen.

Which choice best describes what can be inferred from the passage?

- a) Osaka is a quiet city with few tourists.
- b) Food is an important reason why people visit Osaka.
- c) Tokyo has better food than Osaka.
- d) Osaka is not popular with foreign visitors.

Q2 Many young people dream of starting their own business one day. Being an entrepreneur means you can choose your own working hours and follow your own ideas. However, running a business is not easy. Most new businesses fail within the first three years because of money problems or poor planning.

Which choice best describes what can be inferred from the passage?

- a) Entrepreneurship is a safe and easy career path.
- b) Most people who start businesses become very rich quickly.
- c) The freedom of entrepreneurship comes with serious risks.
- d) Working for a company is always better than starting a business.

Q3 Jazz music began in New Orleans in the early 1900s. It mixed African rhythms with European instruments to create a completely new sound. Jazz musicians are known for improvisation, which means they create music on the spot rather than following a fixed script. Over the decades, jazz has influenced many other music styles, including pop and rock.

Which choice best describes what can be inferred from the passage?

- a) Jazz is only popular in New Orleans today.
- b) Jazz musicians always follow written music exactly.
- c) Jazz has had a wider influence beyond its own genre.
- d) European music had no connection to the development of jazz.

Q4 Travel is often described as one of the best forms of education. When people visit new countries, they experience different foods, languages, and ways of life. Research suggests that travelers who regularly step outside their comfort zone tend to become better problem-solvers. However, frequent travel also has a cost — it can be expensive, tiring, and damaging to the environment.

Which choice best describes what can be inferred from the passage?

- a) Travel is purely a form of entertainment with no educational value.
- b) The benefits of travel are clear and come without any drawbacks.
- c) Travel can develop important skills, but it involves trade-offs.
- d) Research has proven that all travelers become successful entrepreneurs.